Think About It

Take a drink of water. Play a game on the computer. Have you thought about where the water came from or how the computer was made? Everything in our world is either natural or man-made.

A close-up photograph of a young girl with dark, curly hair drinking water from a stainless steel water fountain. She is wearing a red shirt with a blue collar. Water is flowing from the fountain's spout into her mouth and splashing into the basin below. The background is a blurred outdoor setting. A yellow sticky note with a red pushpin is attached to the top right of the image.

Water travels from a natural source through man-made pipes to get to the water fountain.
