

Alike or Different?

Step outside and look all around. Do you see tall, leafy trees or brightly colored, sweet-smelling flowers? Maybe ants cross your path or you step in a puddle of water. Everything in our world can be grouped by similar characteristics. How would you classify the things you see?

All ants are classified as insects because they have three body segments, six legs, and a pair of antennae.

