

Table of Contents

Introduction	3
Teacher's Notes	5
Unit 1 Adam's New Friend	9
Unit 2 Lost	14
Unit 3 The Tin Trunk	19
Unit 4 The Stork and the Fox	24
Unit 5 The Little Creatures	29
Unit 6 Fruity Snacks	34
Unit 7 Sarah's Timetable	39
Unit 8 The Camping Trip	44
Unit 9 Johnny Appleseed	49
Unit 10 A Visit from Planet Zog	54
Unit 11 Holiday Island	59
Unit 12 Monkey Business at the Zoo	64
Unit 13 O'Leary's Leprechaun Show	69
Unit 14 A Girl Named Bree	74
Unit 15 Captain Fishhook and the Buried Treasure	79
Unit 16 The Honeybee's Sting	84
Unit 17 The Magic Trick	89
Unit 18 The Princess and the Pea	94
Unit 19 Stranded!	99
Unit 20 The Polar Bear	104
Common Core State Standards	109

Name _____

Read the fable and answer the questions on the following pages.

Fox invited Stork to dinner, and as a joke, he put their soup in shallow dishes. Fox could lap it up, but Stork could only wet the end of his long bill. Poor Stork left, still feeling hungry.

Fox smiled and said, “I’m sorry that you didn’t like the soup I made.”

“Don’t apologize,” replied Stork. “Come visit me soon, and I’ll make dinner for you.”

When Fox went to visit Stork, Stork put their dinner in long-necked jars with narrow mouths. Fox couldn’t reach the food, and he just licked the outside of the jar.

“I will not apologize for the dinner,” Stork said, “because one bad turn deserves another.”

THE STORK AND THE FOX

Right There

Find the answers directly in the text.

1. Read each sentence. Choose Yes or No.

- a. Fox made some soup for Stork. Yes No
- b. Stork ate the soup Fox made. Yes No
- c. Stork invited Fox to come for dinner. Yes No
- d. Fox enjoyed the dinner that Stork made for him. Yes No
- e. Fox played a trick on Stork. Yes No

2. Draw the type of dish that was suitable for each character.

a. This is the dish Fox liked.

b. This is the dish Stork liked.

Think and Search

Think about what the text says.

Write in the missing words.

- 1. Stork was feeling _____ when he left Fox's house.
- 2. The jar was too _____ for Fox to reach the soup.
- 3. Stork made dinner for Fox because he wanted to _____
_____.
- 4. The two animals did not really _____ each other.

THE STORK AND THE FOX

On Your Own

Use what you know about the text and your own experience.

1. Do you think that Stork was right to play the same trick on Fox that Fox played on him?

2. What do you think Fox learned?

3. Do you think that Fox will play the same trick again? Why or why not?

4. The word apologize means to say you are sorry. In the story, Fox said, "I'm sorry that you didn't like the soup I made."

Do you think Fox was really sorry? _____

5. The story of "The Stork and the Fox" is a fable with a moral at the end. What is the moral?

THE STORK AND THE FOX

Making Connections

A saying you may be familiar with is “One good turn deserves another.” Think about a time you did something good for someone and in return, they did something positive.

1. Draw a picture of something good you did for another person.

2. For whom did you do something good?

3. What did you do?

4. Did the person do something good for you?

5. How did you feel?
