

Reading Comprehension

G3
ELA

The Fawn

No-Prep Activity

Google Forms Quiz

Fiction

Reading Comprehension Activity

The Fawn – Form Quiz

After reading the passage, answer the questions. Fill in the bubble beside the correct answer.

* Indicates required question

The Fawn

Sara and her father planned a hike up a mountain trail near their home. The trail they chose began at the foot of the mountain and led all the way to the top. Sara had packed lunches earlier that morning. Her father filled their backpacks with other supplies and they were off!

As they started up the trail, Sara's father pointed out many different plants that lined the trail. He showed Sara the difference between the leaves of an aspen tree and the needles of a spruce tree. Sara was glad that her father knew so much! She always learned something whenever they went on a hike.

"Look over there," Sara whispered suddenly. They had just turned a corner on the mountain trail. Lying in the grass next to the trail was a small baby deer, or fawn. It looked at them with wide eyes, but it did not move.

"Where is its mother?" Sara wondered aloud. "Do you think we should stay here and watch it?"

"That's a good idea," answered her dad. "We must not go any closer, though." As they sat down and unpacked their lunch, Sara asked her dad why they couldn't go any closer to the fawn. He explained that if the mother smelled humans too close to her baby, she might be too afraid to come back. Sara and her father agreed that they would wait for the mother to come back, but that they would not get too close to the fawn.

Google Slides Activity

Fiction

The Fawn

Sara and her father planned a hike up a mountain trail near their home. The trail they chose began at the foot of the mountain and led all the way to the top. Sara had packed lunches earlier that morning. Her father filled their backpacks with other supplies and they were off!

As they started up the trail, Sara's father pointed out many different plants that lined the trail. He showed Sara the difference between the leaves of an aspen tree and the needles of a spruce tree. Sara was glad that her father knew so much! She always learned something whenever they went on a hike.

"Look over there," Sara whispered suddenly. They had just turned a corner over each correct answer from the

2. What is the main idea of this story?

- ☐ There is a hiking trail near Sara's house.
- ☐ Sara's dad teaches her about trees and plants.
- ☐ There are many amazing things to see in the woods.
- ☐ Sara learns a lesson from her dad while on a hike.

Printable PDF Activity

Fiction

The Fawn

After reading the passage, answer the questions. Fill in the bubble beside the correct answer.

1. How does Sara's dad feel?

- ☐ He wants to go.
- ☐ He cares about her.
- ☐ He doesn't want to.
- ☐ He wishes he could.

2. What is the main idea of this story?

- ☐ There is a hiking trail near Sara's house.
- ☐ Sara's dad teaches her about trees and plants.
- ☐ There are many amazing things to see in the woods.
- ☐ Sara learns a lesson from her dad while on a hike.

3. Which word best describes Sara's dad?

- ☐ wise
- ☐ boring
- ☐ funny
- ☐ strict

4. After this experience, how does Sara feel?

- ☐ run up to it
- ☐ watch it from a distance
- ☐ feed it
- ☐ teach it about the forest

5. How will Sara's dad feel?

- ☐ proud
- ☐ annoyed
- ☐ puzzled
- ☐ sad

Fiction

The Fawn

Sara and her father planned a hike up a mountain trail near their home. The trail they chose began at the foot of the mountain and led all the way to the top. Sara had packed lunches earlier that morning. Her father filled their backpacks with other supplies and they were off!

As they started up the trail, Sara's father pointed out many different plants that lined the trail. He showed Sara the difference between the leaves of an aspen tree and the needles of a spruce tree. Sara was glad that her father knew so much! She always learned something whenever they went on a hike.

"Look over there," Sara whispered suddenly. They had just turned a corner on the mountain trail. Lying in the grass next to the trail was a small baby deer, or fawn. It looked at them with wide eyes, but it did not move.

"Where is its mother?" Sara wondered aloud. "Do you think we should stay here and watch it?"

"That's a good idea," answered her dad. "We must not go any closer, though." As they sat down and unpacked their lunch, Sara asked her dad why they couldn't go any closer to the fawn. He explained that if the mother smelled humans too close to her baby, she might be too afraid to come back. Sara and her father agreed that they would wait for the mother to come back, but that they would not get too close to the fawn.

Soon a larger deer walked slowly up to the fawn nestled in the grass. After a few quick sniffs and a cautious glance at Sara and her father, the mother and baby ran quickly down the trail.

Sara and her father packed up their supplies and continued up the mountain. They knew that the fawn was now safe.

Google Slides Version

What's Included

The Fawn

Sara and her father planned a hike up a mountain trail near their home. The trail they chose began at the foot of the mountain and led all the way to the top. Sara had packed lunches earlier that morning. Her father filled their backpacks with other supplies and they were off!

As they started up the trail, Sara's father pointed out many different plants that lined the trail. He showed Sara the difference between the leaves of an aspen tree and the needles of a spruce tree. Sara was glad that her father knew so much! She always learned something whenever they went on a hike.

"Look over there," Sara whispered suddenly. They had just turned a corner them with his did not move.

"Where is its mother?" Sara wondered aloud. "Do you think we should stay here and watch it?"

"That's a good idea," answered her dad. "We must not go any closer, though." As they sat down

Soon a larger deer walked slowly up to the fawn nestled in the grass. After a few quick sniffs and a cautious glance at Sara and her father, the mother and baby ran quickly down the trail.

Sara and her father packed up their supplies and continued up the mountain. They knew that the fawn was now safe.

The Fawn (cont.)

Answer the questions by dragging a dot to cover each correct answer from the multiple choices below.

1. How does Sara's dad probably feel about the fawn?

- Ⓐ He wants to ignore it.
- Ⓑ He cares about its survival.
- Ⓒ He doesn't want to help it.
- Ⓓ He wishes he could be one.

2. What is the main idea of this story?

- Ⓐ There is a hiking trail near Sara's house.
- Ⓑ Sara's dad teaches her about trees and plants.
- Ⓒ There are many amazing things to see in the woods.
- Ⓓ Sara learns a lesson from her dad while on a hike.

The Fawn (cont.)

Answer the questions by dragging a dot to cover multiple choices below.

3. Which word best describes how Sara's dad

- Ⓐ wise
- Ⓑ boring
- Ⓒ funny
- Ⓓ strict

dot to cover each correct answer from the

5. How will Sara's dad probably feel about her after the hike is over?

- Ⓐ proud
- Ⓑ annoyed
- Ⓒ puzzled
- Ⓓ sad

Google Forms Version

What's Included

Fiction

Reading Comprehension Activity

The Fawn – Form Quiz

After reading the passage, answer the questions. Fill in the bubble beside the correct answer.

* Indicates required question

The Fawn

Sara and her father planned a hike up a mountain trail near their home. The trail they chose began at the foot of the mountain and led all the way to the top. Sara had packed lunches earlier that morning. Her father filled their backpacks with other supplies and they were off!

As they started up the trail, Sara's father pointed out many different plants that lined the trail. He showed Sara the difference between the leaves of an aspen tree and the needles of a spruce tree. Sara was glad that her father knew so much! She always learned something whenever they went on a hike.

"Look over there," Sara whispered suddenly. They had just turned a corner on the mountain trail. Lying in the grass next to the trail was a small baby deer, or fawn. It looked at them with wide eyes, but it did not move.

"Where is its mother?" Sara wondered aloud. "Do you think we should stay here and watch it?"

"That's a good idea," answered her dad. "We must not go any closer, though." As they sat down and unpacked their lunch, Sara asked her dad why they couldn't go any closer to the fawn. He explained that if the mother smelled humans too close to her baby, she might be too afraid to come back. Sara and her father agreed that they would wait for the mother to come back, but that they would not get too close to the fawn.

Soon a larger deer walked slowly up to the fawn nestled in the grass. After a few quick sniffs and a cautious glance at Sara and her father, the mother and baby ran quickly down the trail.

Sara and her father packed up their supplies and continued up the mountain. They knew that the fawn was now safe.

1. How does Sara's dad probably feel about the fawn? *

1 point

☐ He wants to ignore it.

☐ He cares about its survival.

☐ He doesn't want to help it.

☐ He wishes he could be one.

2. What is the main idea of this story? *

1 point

☐ There is a hiking trail near Sara's home.

☐ Sara's dad teaches her about trees and plants.

☐ There are many amazing things to see in the woods.

☐ Sara learns a lesson from her dad while on a hike.

3. Which word best describes how Sara's dad acts in this story? *

1 point

☐ wise

☐ boring

☐ funny

☐ strict

4. After this experience, what would Sara probably do if she were by herself and saw another fawn? *

1 point

☐ run up to it

☐ watch it from a distance

☐ feed it

☐ teach it about trees

5. How will Sara's dad probably feel about her after the hike is over? *

1 point

☐ proud

☐ annoyed

☐ puzzled

☐ sad

A copy of your responses will be emailed to slideshow@teachercreated.com.

Submit

Clear form

This form was created inside of Teacher Created Resources. Contact form owner

Fiction

Reading Comprehension Activity

The Fawn – Form Quiz

After reading the passage, answer the questions. Fill in the bubble beside the correct answer.

* Indicates required question

The Fawn

Sara and her father planned a hike up a mountain trail near their home. The trail they chose began at the foot of the mountain and led all the way to the top. Sara had packed lunches earlier that morning. Her father filled their backpacks with other supplies and they were off!

As they started up the trail, Sara's father pointed out many different plants that lined the trail. He showed Sara the difference between the leaves of an aspen tree and the needles of a spruce tree. Sara was glad that her father knew so much! She always learned something whenever they went on a hike.

"Look over there," Sara whispered suddenly. They had just turned a corner on the mountain trail. Lying in the grass next to the trail was a small baby deer, or fawn. It looked at them with wide eyes, but it did not move.

"Where is its mother?" Sara wondered aloud. "Do you think we should stay here and watch it?"

"That's a good idea," answered her dad. "We must not go any closer, though." As they sat down and unpacked their lunch, Sara asked her dad why they couldn't go any closer to the fawn. He explained that if the mother smelled humans too close to her baby, she might be too afraid to come back. Sara and her father agreed that they would wait for the mother to come back, but that they would not get too close to the fawn.

Soon a larger deer walked slowly up to the fawn nestled in the grass. After a few quick sniffs and a cautious glance at Sara and her father, the mother and baby ran quickly down the trail.

Sara and her father packed up their supplies and continued up the mountain. They knew that the fawn was now safe.

1. How does Sara's dad probably feel about the fawn? *

1 point

☐ He wants to ignore it.

☐ He cares about its survival.

☐ He doesn't want to help it.

☐ He wishes he could be one.

2. What is the main idea of this story? *

1 point

☐ There is a hiking trail near Sara's home.

☐ Sara's dad teaches her about trees and plants.

☐ There are many amazing things to see in the woods.

☐ Sara learns a lesson from her dad while on a hike.

3. Which word best describes how Sara's dad acts in this story? *

1 point

☐ wise

☐ boring

☐ funny

☐ strict

4. After this experience, what would Sara probably do if she were by herself and saw another fawn? *

1 point

☐ run up to it

☐ watch it from a distance

☐ feed it

☐ teach it about trees

5. How will Sara's dad probably feel about her after the hike is over? *

1 point

☐ proud

☐ annoyed

☐ puzzled

☐ sad

A copy of your responses will be emailed to slideshow@teachercreated.com.

Submit

Clear form

This form was created inside of Teacher Created Resources. Contact form owner

What's Included

The Fawn

©Teacher Created Resources

5. How will Sara's dad probably feel about her after the hike is over?

- (A) proud
- (B) annoyed
- (C) puzzled
- (D) sad

©Teacher Created Resources