

Reading Comprehension

G4

ELA

Worth All the Work

No-Prep Activity

Google Forms Quiz

Reading Comprehension Activity

Worth All the Work – Form Quiz

After reading the passage, answer the questions. Fill in the bubble beside the correct answer.

* Indicates required question

Worth All the Work

Ever since her friend Claire got a dog last year, Mona had wanted a dog of her own. Mona got to play with Claire's dog every time she visited Claire's home, which made her want one even more. She checked out books from the library about dogs. She learned what to feed them and when to feed them. She knew the right kinds of toys to give puppies. She knew what kinds of toys older dogs like.

Whenever she had time after school, Mona would go to the computer lab. She liked to look at her favorite website, "Dog Lover's Heaven." It had lists of dogs that were available in her area. She could also learn about every kind of dog breed in the world. Sometimes, Mona would read about dogs just because their names sounded interesting, like "Lhasa apso" or "Pug." But Mona knew she wanted a Jack Russell terrier. Jack Russells are small and very smart.

One day after school, Mona visited the "Dog Lover's Heaven" website to see what dogs could be adopted. Then she saw him! It was a male Jack Russell terrier, white with brown spots. He was only a few weeks old. Mona was delighted when she saw the picture of the tiny puppy. She decided that she couldn't wait any longer. She ran to her mother, who was working in the yard. "Can I please get a dog, Mom?" she asked.

"We've talked about this, Mona," Mom said. "We have to be sure you can take care of it. It's a lot of work to own a dog."

"I've done lots of research," Mona explained. "I've learned so much."

"I know, but I need to be sure. A dog has to be fed and have lots of water. You have to take it for walks so it can get exercise. Are you ready to do that every day after school, even if you're tired or it's raining?" Mom asked.

"I am. I know it's important that I take care of a dog all by myself," Mona said.

"If you get a puppy, it likely will not be housebroken. Are you willing to clean up after it?" Mom asked.

Mona thought for a moment. She knew she wasn't going to like every single thing about owning a dog. Still, a little extra work would be a small price to pay for having a great dog. "Yes, Mom," she said. "I am willing to do whatever it takes."

"All right, I believe you. Remember what I said about saving your money to pay for the things the dog will need?"

Google Slides Activity

Worth All the Work

Ever since her friend Claire got a dog last year, Mona had wanted a dog of her own. Mona got to play with Claire's dog every time she visited Claire's home, which made her want one even more. She checked out books from the library about dogs. She learned what to feed them and when to feed them. She knew the right kinds of toys to give puppies. She knew what kinds of toys older dogs like.

Whenever she had time after school, Mona would go to the computer lab. She liked to look at her favorite website, "Dog Lover's Heaven." It had lists of dogs that were available in her area. She could also learn about every kind of dog breed in the world. Sometimes, Mona would read about dogs just because their names sounded interesting, like "Lhasa apso" or "Pug." But Mona knew she wanted a Jack Russell terrier. Jack Russells are small and very smart.

One day after school, Mona visited the "Dog Lover's Heaven" website to see what dogs could

Worth All the Work

Ever since her friend Claire got a dog last year, Mona had wanted a dog of her own. Mona got to play with Claire's dog every time she visited Claire's home, which made her want one even more. She checked out books from the library about dogs. She learned what to feed them and when to feed them. She knew the right kinds of toys to give puppies. She knew what kinds of toys older dogs like.

Whenever she had time after school, Mona would go to the computer lab. She liked to look at her favorite website, "Dog Lover's Heaven." It had lists of dogs that were available in her area. She could also learn about every kind of dog breed in the world. Sometimes, Mona would read about dogs just because their names sounded interesting, like "Lhasa apso" or "Pug." But Mona knew she wanted a Jack Russell terrier. Jack Russells are small and very smart.

One day after school, Mona visited the "Dog Lover's Heaven" website to see what dogs could

(cont.)

the letter that matches each correct answer.

Printable PDF Activity

Worth All the Work

After reading the passage, answer the questions. Fill in the bubble beside the correct answer.

- Which event made Mona want a dog?
 - She spent time at the library.
 - She got a new dog.
 - She saw that dog.
 - She learned a lot.
- What type of dog did Mona want?
 - Boston terrier
 - Lhasa apso
 - Pug
 - Jack Russell terrier
- What does Mona need to pay for having a great dog?
 - Mona will get a dog.
 - Mona's mom will pay.
 - Mona needs to do research.
 - Dog work hard.
 - Dogs have to be housebroken.
 - Mona will need money.
- How did Mona learn about dogs?
 - by listening to her mother
 - by visiting a website
 - by writing to her mother
 - by watching a TV show

Worth All the Work

Ever since her friend Claire got a dog last year, Mona had wanted a dog of her own. Mona got to play with Claire's dog every time she visited Claire's home, which made her want one even more. She checked out books from the library about dogs. She learned what to feed them and when to feed them. She knew the right kinds of toys to give puppies. She knew what kinds of toys older dogs like.

Whenever she had time after school, Mona would go to the computer lab. She liked to look at her favorite website, "Dog Lover's Heaven." It had lists of dogs that were available in her area. She could also learn about every kind of dog breed in the world. Sometimes, Mona would read about dogs just because their names sounded interesting, like "Lhasa apso" or "Pug." But Mona knew she wanted a Jack Russell terrier. Jack Russells are small and very smart.

One day after school, Mona visited the "Dog Lover's Heaven" website to see what dogs could be adopted. Then she saw him! It was a male Jack Russell terrier, white with brown spots. He was only a few weeks old. Mona was delighted when she saw the picture of the tiny puppy. She decided that she couldn't wait any longer. She ran to her mother, who was working in the yard. "Can I please get a dog, Mom?" she asked.

"We've talked about this, Mona," Mom said. "We have to be sure you can take care of it. It's a lot of work to own a dog."

"I know, but I need to be sure. A dog has to be fed and have lots of water. You have to take it for walks so it can get exercise. Are you ready to do that every day after school, even if you're tired or it's raining?" Mom asked.

"I am. I know it's important that I take care of a dog all by myself," Mona said.

"If you get a puppy, it likely will not be housebroken. Are you willing to clean up after it?" Mom asked.

Mona thought for a moment. She knew she wasn't going to like every single thing about owning a dog. Still, a little extra work would be a small price to pay for having a great dog. "Yes, Mom," she said. "I am willing to do whatever it takes."

"All right, I believe you. Remember what I said about saving your money to pay for the things the dog will need?"

(cont.)

the letter that matches each correct answer.

Google Slides Version

What's Included

Fiction

Worth All the Work

Ever since her friend Claire got a dog last year, Mona had wanted a dog of her own. Mona got to play with Claire's dog every time she visited Claire's home, which made her want one even more. Mona couldn't stop thinking about it. She checked out books from the library about dogs. She learned what to feed them and when to feed them. She knew the right kinds of toys to give puppies. She knew what kinds of toys older dogs like.

Whenever she had time after school, Mona would go to the computer lab. She liked to look at her favorite website, "Dog Lover's Heaven." It had lists of dogs that were available in her area. She could also learn about every kind of dog breed in the world. Sometimes, Mona would read about dogs just because their names sounded interesting, like "Lhasa apso" or "Pug." But Mona knew she wanted a Jack Russell terrier. Jack Russells are small and very smart.

One day after school, Mona visited the "Dog Lover's Heaven" website to see what dogs could

ork (cont.)

have to be sure you can take care of it. It's a lot of work to own a dog."

"I've done lots of research," Mona explained. "I've learned so much."

"I know, but I need to be sure. A dog has to be fed and have lots of water. You have to take it for walks so it can get exercise. Are you ready to do that every day after school, even if you're tired or it's raining?" Mom asked.

"I am. I know it's important that I take care of a dog all by myself," Mona said.

Fiction

Worth All the Work (cont.)

"If you get a puppy, it likely will not be housebroken. Are you willing to clean up after it?" Mom asked.

Mona thought for a moment. She knew she wasn't going to like every single thing about owning a dog. Still, a little extra work would be a small price to pay for having a great dog. "Yes, Mom," she said. "I am willing to do whatever it takes."

"All right," Mom said. "I'll be there for you."

"Yes, enough to help pay for the adoption fee and for the first visit to the vet. I have been thinking about this for a long time!"

"Great!" Mom said. "Then we'll go this weekend. Do you know what kind of dog you want?" "I sure do," Mona said with a smile. "And I can't wait to meet him!"

Fiction

Worth All the Work (cont.)

After reading the passage, drag a dot to cover the letter that matches each correct answer.

- Which event made Mona know for sure that she wanted a dog?
 A She spent time with her friend's new dog.
 B She got a new computer that helped her do research.
 C She saw that dogs were on sale at a pet store.
 D She learned a lot about dog toys.
- What type of dog does Mona want?
 A Boston terrier
 B Lhasa apso
 C Pug
 D Jack Russell terrier

Fiction

Worth All the Work (cont.)

After reading the passage, drag a dot to cover the letter that matches each correct answer.

- What does Mona mean when she thinks "a little extra work would be a small price to pay for having a great dog"?
 A Mona will get a job to help pay for the puppy.
 B Mona's mom will have to work more hours to afford a puppy.
 C The dog was on sale, and Mona could work at the pet store.
 D Mona will not mind cleaning up after a dog.
- What does Mona mean when she says "I am willing to do whatever it takes"?
 A Mona needs to do more research before she is ready to own a dog.
 B Dogs work hard to be good pets for people.
 C Dogs have to be fed and exercised every day and cleaned up after.
 D Mona will need more rest if she gets a dog.

ork (cont.)

to cover the letter that matches each correct answer.

© by writing to The Humane Society
© by watching a TV show about dogs

Google Forms Version

What's Included

Fiction

Reading Comprehension Activity

Worth All the Work – Form Quiz

After reading the passage, answer the questions. Fill in the bubble beside the correct answer.

* Indicates required question

Worth All the Work

Ever since her friend Claire got a dog last year, Mona had wanted a dog of her own. Mona got to play with Claire's dog every time she visited Claire's home, which made her want one even more. Mona couldn't stop thinking about it. She checked out books from the library about dogs. She learned what to feed them and when to feed them. She knew the right kinds of toys to give puppies. She knew what kinds of toys older dogs like.

Whenever she had time after school, Mona would go to the computer lab. She liked to look at her favorite website, "Dog Lover's Heaven." It had lists of dogs that were available in her area. She could also learn about every kind of dog breed in the world. Sometimes, Mona would read about dogs just because their names sounded interesting, like "Lhasa apso" or "Pug." But Mona knew she wanted a Jack Russell terrier. Jack Russells are small and very smart.

One day after school, Mona visited the "Dog Lover's Heaven" website to see what dogs could be adopted. Then she saw him! It was a male Jack Russell terrier, white with brown spots. He was only a few weeks old. Mona was delighted when she saw the picture of the tiny puppy. She decided that she couldn't wait any longer. She ran to her mother, who was working in the yard. "Can I please get a dog, Mom?" she asked.

"We've talked about this, Mona," Mom said. "We have to be sure you can take care of it. It's a lot of work to own a dog."

"I've done lots of research," Mona explained. "I've learned so much."

"I know, but I need to be sure. A dog has to be fed and have lots of water. You have to take it for walks so it can get exercise. Are you ready to do that every day after school, even if you're tired or it's raining?" Mom asked.

"I am. I know it's important that I take care of a dog all by myself," Mona said.

"If you get a puppy, it likely will not be housebroken. Are you willing to clean up after it?" Mom asked.

Mona thought for a moment. She knew she wasn't going to like every single thing about owning a dog. Still, a little extra work would be a small price to pay for having a great dog. "Yes, Mom," she said. "I am willing to do whatever it takes."

"All right, I believe you. Remember what I said about saving your money to pay for the things the dog will need?"

"Yes, Mom," Mona said. "I saved enough already for the Humane Society's adoption fee and for the first visit to the vet. I have been thinking about this for a long time!"

"Great!" Mom said. "Then we'll go this weekend. Do you know what kind of dog you want?" "I sure do," Mona said with a smile. "And I can't wait to meet him!"

day after school, even if you're tired or it's raining?" Mom asked.

"I am. I know it's important that I take care of a dog all by myself," Mona said.

"If you get a puppy, it likely will not be housebroken. Are you willing to clean up after it?" Mom asked.

Mona thought for a moment. She knew she wasn't going to like every single thing about owning a dog. Still, a little extra work would be a small price to pay for having a great dog. "Yes, Mom," she said. "I am willing to do whatever it takes."

"All right, I believe you. Remember what I said about saving your money to pay for the things the dog will need?"

"Yes, Mom," Mona said. "I saved enough already for the Humane Society's adoption fee and for the first visit to the vet. I have been thinking about this for a long time!"

"Great!" Mom said. "Then we'll go this weekend. Do you know what kind of dog you want?" "I sure do," Mona said with a smile. "And I can't wait to meet him!"

1. Which event made Mona know for sure that she wanted a dog? * 1 point
 - She spent time with her friend's new dog.
 - She got a new computer that she could use to do research.
 - She saw that dogs were on sale.
 - She learned a lot about dogs.
2. What type of dog does Mona want? * 1 point
 - Boston terrier
 - Lhasa apso
 - Pug
 - Jack Russell terrier
3. What does Mona mean when she thinks "a little extra work would be a small price to pay for having a great dog"? * 1 point
 - Mona will get a job to help pay for the puppy.
 - Mona's mom will have to work more hours to afford a puppy.
 - The dog was on sale, and Mona could work at the pet store.
 - Mona will not mind cleaning up after a dog.
4. What does Mona's mother mean when she says, "It's a lot of work to own a dog"? * 1 point
 - Mona needs to do more research before she is ready to own a dog.
 - Dogs work hard to be good pets for people.
 - Dogs have to be fed and exercised every day and cleaned up after.
 - Mona will need more rest if she gets a dog.
5. How did Mona learn so much about dogs? * 1 point
 - by listening to her teacher at school
 - by visiting a website about dogs
 - by writing to the Humane Society
 - by watching a TV show about dogs

A copy of your responses will be emailed to slideshow@teachercreated.com.

Submit Clear form

This form was created inside of Teacher Created Resources. - Contact form owner

Printable PDF Version

What's Included

Fiction  Name: _____

Worth All the Work

Ever since her friend Claire got a dog last year, Mona had wanted a dog of her own. Mona got to play with Claire's dog every time she visited Claire's home, which made her want one even more. Mona couldn't stop thinking about it. She checked out books from the library about dogs. She learned what to feed them and when to feed them. She knew the right kinds of toys to give puppies. She knew what kinds of toys older dogs like.

Whenever she had time after school, Mona would go to the computer lab. She liked to look at her favorite website, "Dog Lover's Heaven." It had lists of dogs that were available in her area. She could also learn about every kind of dog breed in the world. Sometimes, Mona would read about dogs just because their names sounded interesting, like "Lhasa apso" or "Pug." But Mona knew she wanted a Jack Russell terrier. Jack Russells are small and very smart.

One day after school, Mona visited the "Dog Lover's Heaven" website to see what dogs could be adopted. Then she saw him! It was a male Jack Russell terrier, white with brown spots. He was only a few weeks old. Mona was delighted when she saw the picture of the tiny puppy. She decided that she couldn't wait any longer. She ran to her mother, who was working in the yard. "Can I please get a dog, Mom?" she asked.

"We've talked about this, Mona," Mom said. "We have to be sure you can take care of it. It's a lot of work to own a dog."

"I've done lots of research," Mona explained. "I've learned so much."

"I know, but I need to be sure. A dog has to be fed and have lots of water. You have to take it for walks so it can get exercise. Are you ready to do that every day after school, even if you're tired or it's raining?" Mom asked.

"I am. I know it's important that I take care of a dog all by myself," Mona said.

"If you get a puppy, it likely will not be housebroken. Are you willing to clean up after it?" Mom asked.

Mona thought for a moment. She knew she wasn't going to like every single thing about owning a dog. Still, a little extra work would be a small price to pay for having a great dog. "Yes, Mom," she said. "I am willing to do whatever it takes."

"All right, I believe you. Remember what I said about saving your money to pay for the things the dog will need?"

"Yes, Mom," Mona said. "I saved enough already for the Humane Society's adoption fee and for the first visit to the vet. I have been thinking about this for a long time!"

"Great!" Mom said. "Then we'll go this weekend. Do you know what kind of dog you want?" "I sure do," Mona said with a smile. "And I can't wait to meet him!"

©Teacher Created Resources

All the Work

bubble that matches each correct answer.

sure that she wanted a dog?
new dog.
helped her do research.
at a pet store.

... a little extra work would be a small price to
... puppy.
... hours to afford a puppy.
... work at the pet store.
... a dog.
... says, "It's a lot of work to own a dog?"
... she is ready to own a dog.
... ople.
... y day and cleaned up after.
... est if she gets a dog.

5. How did Mona learn so much about dogs?
Ⓐ by listening to her teacher at school
Ⓑ by visiting a website about dogs
Ⓒ by writing to the Humane Society
Ⓓ by watching a TV show about dogs

©Teacher Created Resources